Honoring Yesterday—Protecting Tomorrow

Vol. 48, No.9

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By John McTighe

I was pleased to see the 12.0% earnings reported for the SDCERA investment fund for the year ending June 30, 2017. After several years of disappointing returns, the fund outperformed its target earnings rate of 7.25% by a significant amount. At the end of the last fiscal year, the pension trust fund balance was $11.409 billion. All of us as retirees receiving pensions from SDCERA should take comfort in knowing that our pension funds are sound and the investment strategy set by the Board of Retirement with guidance from Chief Investment Officer Stephen Sexauer is working. It's important to be reminded that one or even a few years of particularly good performance or particularly bad performance are not to be taken out of the context that pension funds are long-term, and what's most important is the long-term trend in earnings, not any one year. The SDCERA pension fund has averaged 7% earnings over the past 20 years. This was despite the huge losses incurred in the financial collapse of 2008. Again, long-term perspective is what matters. It took us many years to earn our retirement and it will take many years for SDCERA to pay out our retirement, so we need not get too excited about one year's stellar earnings or too disappointed by one year's lousy earnings, but to put it in perspective with the long run.

Again this year, October is going to be a busy month for RESDC. We have our Coming Home event on October 4th, our Health Fair Picnic on October 17th, and a team walking in the Walk4ALZ San Diego on October 21st. This year's Coming Home event will be at the County's new Live Well Center in Escondido and will feature welcoming remarks from County Supervisor Kristin Gaspar and a keynote address from the County's Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Nick Yphantides, MD.

We have some changes coming to the Health Fair Picnic this year. We are no longer requiring members to pay a refundable $5 deposit. This change however, requires an RSVP so we can get an accurate head count for lunch. We will continue to charge guests and non-members $5 each. This year's Health Fair Picnic promises to be bigger and better than ever.

GOOD RETURNS FROM AN UP-MARKET

By Stan Coombs, Director

The markets have had a good year.

The huge California Public Employees Retirement System (CalPERS) reports 11.2% investment gains for 2016-17. They earned only 2.4% and 0.61% the previous two years, against a 7.5% goal, or "assumption rate." They say they're the largest public retirement system in the United States, with 1.8 million state, county, city, special district and school district members, and a $327 billion fund.

CalPERS also says they have 68% of the funds needed if they suddenly had to pay off all the benefits they owe members. That's a bit low, but they have very little chance of being placed in that situation. Benefits come due when members retire over time, which means there's time, and a system in place, to make up periodic shortages.

Then on July 20, 2017, the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) announced they gained 13.4% during 2016-17, well over their 7.5% assumption rate, and up from 4.8% in 2014-15 and 1.4% in 2015-16. CalSTRS is reported to be 64% funded.

CalSTRS is no small shakes either. Claiming to be the largest, educator-only pension system in the world, they serve over 900,000 California educators, employed by 1,700 school districts, county offices of education and community college districts, with a $208.7 billion fund. They'll be around for a while too.

And, there's more good news. On July 20th, our own SDCERA Chief Investment Officer Stephen Sexauer reported 12% fund earnings for the 2016-2017 fiscal year, against a 7.25% assumption rate. This soundly breaks a two-year down-streak for us too, which included 2.25% earnings in 2015 and 0.5% in 2016. SDCERA is reported to be the third largest county retirement system in California, behind Los Angeles and Orange Counties, serving about 41,000 members, with an $11.4 billion fund. SDCERA was reported to be 76.9% funded in 2016.

The very long-term character of government retirement systems and their investment performance is not unimportant. Benefit obligations are long coming due, allowing assumption rates to be multi-decade goals and average earnings over long periods much more important than short-term, up and down variations.

So, CalPERS, for example, reports their total fund averaged 8.8% gains over the last five years, 4.4% over ten years and 6.6% over 20 years. CalSTRS says they averaged 10.1% gains over the last five years, 5% over 10 years and 6.9% over 20 years. Those ten and twenty-year periods include the most devastating recession since the 1930s.

Back home, SDCERA reports 7.1% average earnings over the last five years, 4.4% over ten, and 7.0% over 20 years. That compares favorably to the 6.6% and 6.9% long-term twenty-year earnings reported by CalPERS and CalSTRS, respectively.

There's also an interesting and intricate aside, applicable to many public retirement systems, including SDCERA, having to do with how public employer and employee retirement costs fare under various estimated and actual earning scenarios.

You'll need to follow closely . . . Regular readers know that public defined benefit systems are annually funded from annual investment earnings of accumulated funds, and employer and employee contributions. Because no one knows exactly how much will be earned in a given future year, earnings estimates (assumption rates) are developed beforehand, so the remaining funds needed from contributions can be calculated. The higher earnings are estimated, the lower employer and employee contributions need to be. Thus, one would think, both employers and employees would be cautious about lowering assumption rates because lower rates mean higher employer and employee costs.

But, if actual earnings at the end of an investment year fall below the earlier estimate, leaving a funding gap, that gap is funded entirely by employers in most systems, while normal, calculated contributions are shared with employees. So, the employer is faced with an annual quandary of sorts. Decisive economic factors aside, is it better to lean toward higher earning estimates, knowing normal contributions would be less, but the earning estimate might be optimistic? Or, to encourage a lower earning estimate and know there will be higher contributions required, but shared with employees, and unshared deficit costs will be less likely? Got all that?

Incidentally, the earnings estimate, or "assumption rate," is not commonly set by the employer, the Board of Supervisors, but by the independent Board of Retirement.

YOU'RE INVITED!
COMING HOME TO THE NORTH INLAND LIVE WELL CENTER

When: Wednesday, October 4, 2017 at 11:00 am
Where: North Inland Live Well Center

Our annual "Coming Home" event invites retired employees of San Diego County to celebrate County sites. On October 4th, we invite you to join your fellow RESDC members in "coming home" to the County's new North Inland Live Well Center in Escondido. Opened in 2015, the center serves as a community hub for health and social services. The center also houses the County of San Diego's Military and Veterans Resource center, including many community-based organizations dedicated to assisting military veterans and their dependents and survivors.

Our event will kick off with welcoming remarks from Kristin Gaspar, Vice Chairwoman of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors. Prior to becoming a Supervisor, Gaspar was an Encinitas City Council Member and went on to become the first Mayor ever elected in that city. Supervisor Gaspar believes in fiscal discipline and accountability. She is a proponent of protecting the environment and preserving open spaces. Other issues that are important to Supervisor Gaspar include: the growing homeless problem around the county, public safety, and improving our streets, infrastructure and neighborhoods. Recently, she partnered with her colleagues on a County initiative to help those with Alzheimer's receive the proper care they need. Kristin was born and raised in North County and is proud to represent her hometown community.

The keynote speaker will be Dr. Nick Yphantides, who currently serves as the Chief Medical Officer for San Diego County and its 3.3 million residents (1% of America's population). He is the Founding Co-Chair of San Diego's Childhood Obesity Initiative, was the Chief Medical Officer (CMO) of one the largest network of Community Clinics in San Diego County, the CMO of the Council of Community Clinics and was the publicly elected Chairman of the Board for Palomar Health, the largest Public Hospital District in California. ## RETIREMENT BOARD RAISED 2018 HEALTH ADMIN FEE AT JULY MEETING RESDC PRESIDENT JOHN MCTIGHE TESTIFIED

On July 20, 2017 the SDCERA Board of Retirement (BOR) approved increasing the 2018 Health Program administrative fee 31 cents, from $4.85 to $5.16 per month. RESDC President John McTighe addressed the Board opposing the increase. His statement is printed below.

RESDC representatives attended the SDCERA Benefits Committee meeting in June, where the increase was recommended, and requested details about the justification for the fee hike and how the administrative costs were calculated. Between the committee meeting and the BOR action, President McTighe continued to communicate with SDCERA officials, providing written inquiries and receiving detailed responses about the process for evaluating health program administrative expenses.

These materials were provided to the entire BOR. SDCERA Board members and staff thanked RESDC for raising concerns that helped everyone better understand the admin fee issue and feel comfortable that the fee was being accurately and fairly applied. The review of the issue revealed that the Health Program administrative fund had a $538,655 reserve from three years where fee revenue exceeded actual costs. The calculation for calendar year 2018 included a credit of $187,831 from the reserve to keep the increase to 31 cents. The remainder of the reserve fund would be phased in to "smooth" future fee increases.

In his remarks, John McTighe recommended the Board not increase the fee, but rather keep at the current amount of $4.85 using more of the reserve to hold the fee to the 2017 level. Board members expressed appreciation for RESDC's involvement and efforts, but they felt the Benefit Committee's recommendation to gradually increase the fee was more logical. The following is John McTighe's statement to the BOR:

Good morning madam Chair and Board Members. I am John McTighe, President of the Retired Employees of San Diego County. I appreciate the opportunity to speak to the Health Care Administration Fee item on today's agenda. When this item was discussed at your Benefits Committee meeting on June 29th, I commented to the committee that while RESDC doesn't necessarily support any charges or fees that our members must pay, we fully understand that the law forbids any pension trust fund monies from being expended on health care related expenses. I said we would have preferred the 2018 Health Administration Fee would not have been recommended for an increase from the current 2017 fee of $4.85 per month per participant. I then requested that we receive backup for how the recommended fee of $5.16 per month was calculated.

Last Friday, I received a copy of the memo that appears in your agenda book at Tab 8 showing the major components of the fee. I noted in Mr. Bych's memo that there is a fund balance of $538,655 that had apparently been accumulated over the past three years. While we appreciate Mr. Bych's recommendation to use a portion of that fund balance in calculating the amount needed to be raised by the 2018 fee, we note that the recommended fee of $5.16 per month is a 6.4% increase over the current year's fee of $4.85 per month.

I recommend you use a greater share of the fund balance in 2018 to maintain the Health Administration at $4.85 per month fee.

With the uncertainties facing the future of healthcare in the country, and the increases we see in health plans, it would be comforting to your retirees and our members to know that the fees they pay for the administration of the health plans would stay stable for at least another year.

Thank you for your consideration. I'm available to answer any questions you may have.

2017 BOARD ELECTION UPDATE

By Carlos Gonzalez, Elections Committee Chair

As required in the RESDC Bylaws, a request for nominations of Association Board Officers and Directors was published in our July newsletter. The positions of President and Second Vice President require the nominees be a current or past Board members. Nominations were officially closed on August 4, 2017. Our President and Second Vice President have agreed to remain on the board for another two-year term. Three of the four Directors whose terms expire in December 2017 are available to fulfill another two-year term.

In accordance with Article XI, Section 2 of the RESDC Bylaws, "When only one candidate for a vacancy on the Board of Directors is nominated, the nominee will be considered elected by the Board." Accordingly, John McTighe will be elected to the position of President and Chris Heiser will be elected to the position of Second Vice President. The three Directors reelected are Sarah Brooks, Joe McGuire, and George Shoemaker. All reelected Board members will serve a two-year term, beginning January 1, 2018. A new "candidate" for Board member has stepped forward and his name will be announced at this year's Holiday Luncheon in December at which time all "successful" candidates will be sworn in as required. As there was only one candidate for the open board position, we will not hold an election.

The Retired Employees of San Diego County and all its members, greatly appreciate our volunteers, and their service as Officers and Directors of our Association.
